WASHINGTON (AP)—Hundreds of federal revenue officers fanned out across the country Tuesday night and this morning in a massive drive to seize the entire proceeds of the Lister-Patterson heavyweight title fight.

The aim was to collect $3.9 million in taxes which the government claims is owed by the fight promoters.

The Internal Revenue Service announced that officers moved in Tuesday night on about 20 theaters throughout the country which collected an estimated $4 million from patrons who watched Sonny Liston win the heavyweight championship from Floyd Patterson.

The fight was telecast over a closed-circuit network. Theaters were instructed to turn over all receipts from the TV show to IRS.

Other agents, in an unprecedented move, served levies against the promoters of the fight and the organizers of the TV showings, demanding that all receipts be handed over to the government.

IRS acted to grab the entire gate receipts from the one-night bout at Chicago's Comiskey Park, as well as fees paid by the American Broadcasting Co. for rights to cover the fight via radio.

If IRS collects as much as it expects, it will receive an estimated $5 million or more. However, it would have to refund part of this amount later to the promoters and TV organizers because tax claims total a lesser amount—$3,885,000.

Part of the drive had come to light Tuesday night though the crying of papers at various points over the country.

Not until today, however, did IRS headquarters disclose the full scope of the operation.

In Boston Alvin M. Kelley, regional director for the Internal Revenue Service, said "the action taken this evening was to insure payments to the United States of taxes derived from the entertainments."

In almost every case the agents presented orders for the theater managers to freeze 55 per cent of the receipts. An Omaha, Neb., manager said that the order applied to the portion due the national holders of the national television rights to the fight, Graf, Reiner and Smith Enterprises, Inc., of Los Angeles.

A Charlotte, N.C., theater manager quoted an IRS official there as saying the government was trying to collect $1,710,500 allegedly owed the government by the firm.

Fulbright Names Woman Director

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., announced this morning the appointment of Mrs. L. Gardner of Russellville as director of the women's division of his fourth-term campaign for the U. S. Senate.

Fulbright is opposed by Dr. Kenneth Jones of Little Rock, a Republican.

Mrs. Gardner said her previous political experience included active participation in Gov. Orval Faubus' five campaigns.

The senator is scheduled to attend a Democratic rally tonight at Mountain Home.

Soviet Base in Cuba Will Be Camouflaged

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department declared today Soviet construction of a fishing port in Cuba will be watched closely by the United States to see whether it poses a threat to this nation's safety.

The State Department implied—but carefully avoided a specific charge — That the project announced at Havana Tuesday may turn out to be in fact construction of a naval base. Increased Communist power in Cuba would increase the threat to U.S. security.

State Department officials told newsmen the Soviet fishing fleet operating in the western North Atlantic numbers about 600 trawlers. They said concentration of Soviet fishing boats in the Caribbean area could injure the competitive position which traditionally fish in the Caribbean, such as Mexico and the United States.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said he had no information other than that announced by Premier Fidel Castro at Havana Tuesday after the signing of a fishing treaty with the Russian minister of fisheries.

Some military sources expressed fear the port might be camouflaged for a naval base which could threaten the Panama Canal.

They said a port equipped to overhaul, repair, and supply Soviet and Cuban trawlers could also serve as a support base for submarines and torpedo boats.

The plans to build a port somewhere on Cuba's 2,500-mile coastline as headquarters for a joint Atlantic fishing fleet were unveiled Tuesday by Prime Minister Fidel Castro in a television speech. It was reported in Havana that Soviet crews would instruct Cubans in operation of Russian trawlers and that the flotilla ultimately would become property of the Cuban government.

Many of the Soviet Union's 3,000 trawlers are anything but purely fishing craft. They are known to carry radar and other electronic equipment with which they have monitored U.S. missile test shots from Cape Canaveral, Fla., and have observed U.S. fleet maneuvers.

The small flotilla of Soviet trawlers which arrived in Havana last summer is equipped with electronic detection equipment.

Some military authorities said construction of a Soviet port in Cuba appears part of a worldwide plan to position Soviet naval power where it could pinch off key Allied shipping routes.

R. E. Dillard, 74, of Prescott Rt. 6, Dies

Robert E. Dillard, aged 74, of Route 6 Prescott died en route to a hospital Tuesday. He was a native of Nevada County, a retired farmer and member of the Bluff Springs Missionary Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Maggie Dillard of Prescott, one son, Milton Dillard, Kansas City, four daughters, Mrs. Jeff Loe of Prescott, Mrs. Delmer Bolls, Macomb, Miss., Mrs. Ray Corley and Mrs. Paul Hiett, Bossier City, La. Two brothers, Hicks of St. Francisville, La. and Louie of Rosston. Four sisters, Mrs. George Fuller of Waldo, Mrs. Doyle Lowe of Minden, La., Mrs. Hinton Martin, Camden and Mrs. Hattie Butler of Hope.

Funeral services will be at 2:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 27, at Bluff Springs Missionary Baptist Church with Rev. Elsworth Wortman and Rev. L. H. Dillard. Burial will be in Union Cemetery with Cornish Funeral Home in charge.

Burglar Gets $50 at Local Store

Hope Feed Co., West Third St. owned and operated by Wade Warren, was entered sometime Monday night and the burglar took about $50 in small bills and change. Entrance was gained through an attic fan and the thief left through a rear door. City Police reported.

Winners in Talent Contest

Rain slowed things a bit at the Third District Livestock Show last night but clear skies Wednesday made Fair Officials hopeful that a large crowd will turn out tonight.

Despite the rain a fairly large crowd was on hand for the finals of the Quarterhorse Show last night. Another free show is on tap for tonight at 8 o'clock and this too is a horse show featuring the Appaloosa breed.

There was a full slate of entries Wednesday morning when the show began. The finals, highlighted by the famous double barrel and stake races, will be in the Coliseum.

Judging of Junior Poultry got underway this morning as did the N.F.A. and Negro 4-H Livestock and Dairy Judging contest. A highlight of the show Thursday will be the Junior Swine Show, Junior Steer and Fat Calf Show and the Junior Steer Sale by auction.

Thursday begins the western part of the show and a parade will be held in downtown Hope at 4 p.m. Crenshaw Rodeo Co. of Oklahoma holds its first rodeo at 8 p.m. in the Coliseum. Entries in the Appaloosa Horse Show will complete in stake races each night of the rodeo for the more than $800 in prize money.

Friday has been designated as school day at the show and all students will be admitted free to the showgrounds. Alamo Exposition Shows with 17 rides and a half dozen side shows will also operate the midway at reduced prices for the school children.

Show Manager Ned Ray Purdie confirmed today that Monday night's crowd of some 4,500 was perhaps the largest opening night crowd in the show's recent history.

Humphrey Returns to Be Opened

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Armed Services Committee voted 9-4 today to request that income tax returns of companies headed by former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey be opened to inspection by stockpile investigators.

Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., told newsmen the vote was on straight party lines. The move was denounced by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., as "a witch hunt, a get-Humphrey effort."

Access to the tax returns was requested by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., chairman of a subcommittee that is investigating $100-million nickel stockpiling contracts made with the M. A. Hanna Co. of Cleveland, Ohio, of which Humphrey was chairman of the board.

2nd Registration for Adult Classes

Monday, Oct. 1 at 7 p.m. a second registration will be held to determine whether or not there will be a sufficient number of adults to set up more than one class, James H. Jones, Supt., announced today.

All adults interested in Grades 1-8 report to Senior High School. An Intermediate Reading and Spelling program will be offered, if we have enough interest.

All interested in grades 9-12 report to Jr. High. This will be the final registration night. This will include all adults who previously registered.

Tobe Huckabee, 70, Dies at Home Near Hope

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Parie Huckabee, three sons, Alvin of Spring Hill, Neil of Hobbs, N.M. and Kirby Huckabee of Greenville, Miss.; two daughters, Mrs. Thomas Tomney and Mrs. Roy Tompleton of Texarkana; three brothers, Lush and Marsh Huckabee, both of Hope and William O. Huckabee of Texarkana and a sister, Mrs. John Dain of Hope.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at Herndon-Cornelius Chapel by the Rev. D. O. Silvey. Burial will be in Huckabee Cemetery.

Negro Again Denied at Mississippi U., Scuffle Flares Briefly

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas' share of federal interstate highway aid for fiscal 1963-64 was set Tuesday at $27,138,475.

The total national allotment for the fiscal year, which starts next July 1, was $2.6 billion, an increase of $200 million over the allocation for this year.

The government pays a minimum of 90 per cent of the cost of interstate construction. The 41,000 mile highway net is scheduled for completion in 1972.

Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges, in announcing the fiscal 1963-64 apportionments Tuesday, said 12,550 miles of interstate roads have been opened to travel and more than $13.5 billion has been spent on construction since the program started six years ago.

When completed, the interstate system will comprise about one percent of all U.S. highway and street mileage, but it will carry an estimated 20 per cent of the nation's traffic.

Cuba Hails Base Pact With Russia

HAVANA (AP) — Cuban propagandists hailed today Prime Minister Fidel Castro's pact with the Soviet Union calling for building a fishing port for Russian trawlers in Havana Bay.

Castro announced the pact Tuesday, saying the Russians would furnish credits for building large docking and freezing facilities. He said the Soviet trawler fleet would have use of the facilities for at least 10 years.

Castro said in a television address the port facilities would provide headquarters for a joint Cuban-Soviet Atlantic fishing fleet. Some Soviet trawlers arrived last summer and Castro reported then they would be turned over to the Cubans.

A Cuban commentator on a nationwide television broadcast declared the facilities would be "a Cuban port and Cuban property." He ridiculed reports he said were circulating in Miami that Russians would control the port.

The commentator praised the Soviet Union for extending credits to finance more than half the cost of the 12-million peso project.

He said this contrasted with the trade policy of the United States before Castro came to power. He asserted the United States then was interested only in buying Cuban sugar and tobacco and tried to choke off Cuban rice production in favor of American producers.

A communique reported the fishing port would provide facilities for from 115 to 130 medium trawlers.

The communique said the port would include piers, refrigerators, an ice factory, supply depots, shops, a floating dock, fuel supply stations and a radio station.

(Washington estimates the Russians had from 125 to 140 trawlers in the North Atlantic this summer. Many have elaborate radio and electronic equipment and often show up at U.S. Naval maneuvers.)

Other Officials Also Defy U. S. Ultimatum

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi blocked Negro James H. Meredith at the gates of the University of Mississippi today, foiling for the third time in less than a week his plans to enroll at the all-white schools.

Gov. Paul Johnson, backed by highway patrolmen, barred the 29-year-old Negro's path this time, four times refusing Meredith and five cars of U.S. marshals at the main entrance.

"We want to take him in," said John Doar, U.S. Justice Department attorney, the fourth time.

"I heard you," snapped Johnson. Then a brief scuffle flared when marshals tried to walk through the line of patrolmen. Lt. Gov. Johnson told Chief Marshal John McShane:

"You are senseless in trying to show off in front of television cameras for the rest of the nation to see."

McShane replied: "I'm not showing off but doing my job as ordered."

The brief physical contact between state and federal officers ended abruptly. Meredith and his convoy of marshals headed back to Oxford airport and took off in a government plane for an unannounced destination.

At this moment, Gov. Ross Barnett—two times before turned down Meredith's application for admission to Ole Miss in defiance of federal court orders—was 15 minutes away, speeding north by car. Bad weather kept him from flying to Oxford.

"Well," Meredith shrugged to a newsmen at the airport, "at least I'm getting a lot of flying time."

He obviously was referring to Tuesday's flight from New Orleans. The adamant governor met him at the door of the State College Board office and rejected him.

Four hours after Barnett openly defied federal court orders and turned Meredith down, the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans directed the 4-year-old governor to appear in New Orleans Friday to face contempt charges.

In Washington, a Defense Department spokesman said that no military units have been alerted for possible movement to Mississippi in the dispute.

There have been reports Army elements might be sent into the state to enforce the court orders.

Ole Miss registrar Robert B. Ellis said he would be in his office to register Meredith if he appeared.

Ellis said he would act under direct orders from the State College Board and federal courts.

Barnett repeatedly has vowed to go to jail rather than desegregate the university where he received his law degree with honors. He has also threatened to close Ole Miss.

A source close to the Appeals Court in New Orleans said it appeared federal troops would be necessary to enforce the judicial decrees.

"The court has gone as far as it can go," said the source.

Woman Has Claimed Body at Marianna

MARIANNA, Ark. (AP) — A Cherry Valley, Ark., woman has claimed a body that lay in a Marianna funeral home for 53 years and recently was sent to the University of Arkansas Medical Center for study.

Norris Hodge, owner of Flowers Funeral Home, said the body was being held by the Medical Center and that he would ask that it be returned for burial.

He said Mrs. Thomas Peck of Cherry Valley produced pictures of the dead man and said he was her father. She said he left their home in ill health in 1909.

There were conflicting stories as to how the man died. The story accepted by the funeral home for years was that he was found dead alongside railroad tracks. But a mortician who said he embalmed the body said the man died of malaria.

The body was not claimed and was embalmed and kept in a back room of the funeral home. There was no explanation as to why it was not buried.

When Hodge bought the funeral home early this year, he decided to get rid of the body, but ran into red tape because bodies cannot be legally disposed of. It finally was sent to the Medical Center for research, but the center holds bodies 90 days after arrival before beginning research.

The body was taken to the center Sept. 10, and Hodge said Mrs. Peck appeared the same day with the pictures.

The body was called Tommy Moon over the years, because funeral home employees said he was found on a moonlit night by a man named Tommy.

Flooding in Spain Leaves 395 Missing

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — Flash floods and hurricane winds ripped overnight through a group of villages in a hilly region near Barcelona and a government spokesman said more than 600 persons are dead or missing.

The spokesman said 24 bodies have been recovered and 395 persons are unaccounted for.

Fresh thunderstorms continued across the area, where several hours of heavy rain and high winds smashed many homes and other buildings.

Officials said the death toll might rise.

Several villages, whose residents normally worked in textile plants near Barcelona, were almost wiped out by the floods, which followed months of dry weather.

The floods struck a few hours after the windup of a Barcelona religious festival, named Nuestra Señora de la Merced—Our Lady of Mercy—which runs for a week each fall. The event had included a song festival with entrants from many nations.

The victims included families who were sleeping. Their houses caved in and trapped them under the debris.

Barcelona was caught in a torrential downpour which quickly flooded the Ripoll and San Quirico rivers.

Rushing water toppled buildings and roared through streets.

Similar floods struck nearby towns.

At first, Barcelona people welcomed the rain because it was the first in nearly four months. But the downpour continued and about midnight people living in downtown districts began climbing to the highest stories of buildings trying to escape the swirling waters.

Inhabitants were breadless because bakeries were flooded. The drinking water was lacking in many districts.

Division were ordered into Little Rock, Ark., to enforce court-directed public school desegregation there in 1957. The federal action came after Gov. Orval E. Faubus called out the Arkansas National Guard to prevent nine Negroes from enrolling at Little Rock Central High School.

In Washington, Justice Department sources said the department was determined to carry through with Meredith's enrollment. They refused to forecast the department's next moves but they did not rule out the use of federal troops.

Barnett brushed aside a directive from the circuit court restraining him and virtually all of the state's peace officers from interfering with Meredith's registration.

Barnett met Meredith at the door of the State College Board office. He refused to accept copies of the court's directives and then read a proclamation asserting the state's sovereignty in the case.

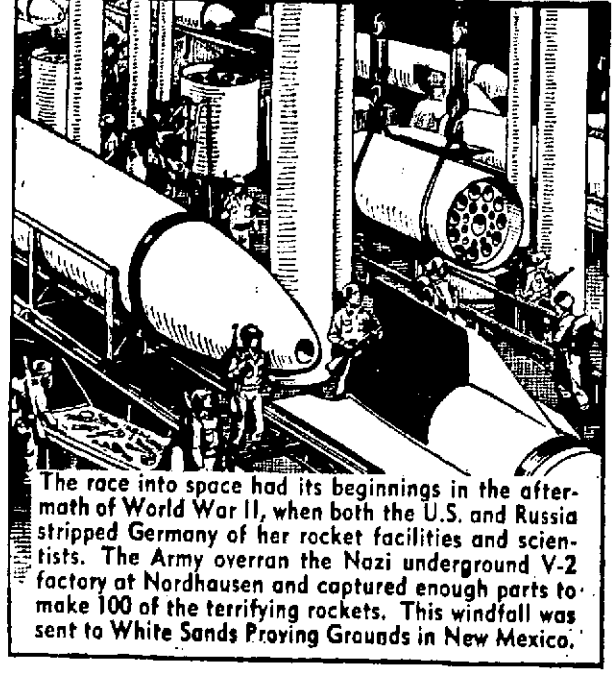

Last Thursday Barnett personally took over powers as Ole Miss registrar and refused to let Meredith enroll at the university.

He stopped briefly at the Jackson airport to talk on the telephone with U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

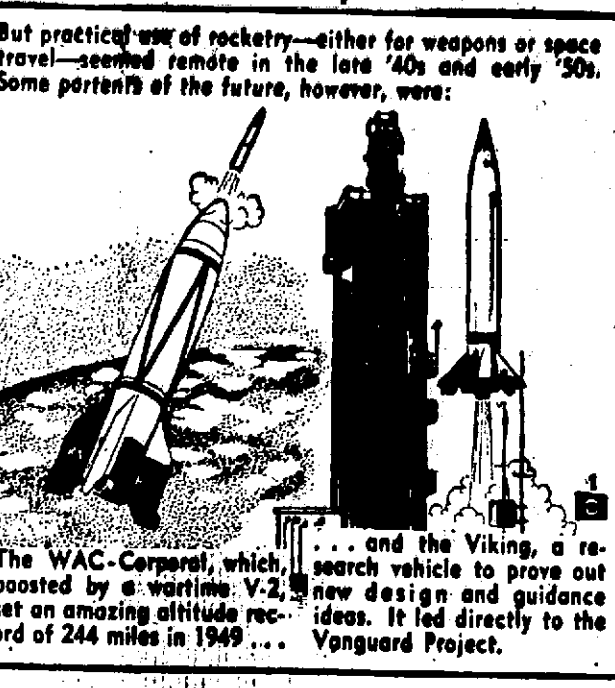

One of Meredith's lawyers said "the gist of the conversation was that he (Kennedy) assured Meredith that they would pursue the case until we get some satisfaction."

Sputnik Plus Five

The race into space had its beginnings in the aftermath of World War II, when both the U.S. and Russia stripped Germany of her rocket facilities and scientists. The Army overran the Nazi underground V-2 factory at Nordhausen and captured enough parts to make 100 of the terrifying rockets. This windfall was sent to White Sands Proving Grounds in New Mexico.

(1) Prelude to Space

But practical use of rocketry—either for weapons or space travel—seemed remote in the late '40s and early '50s. Some portraits of the future, however, were:

The WAC-Corporal, which, boosted by a wartime V-2, search vehicle to prove out set an amazing altitude record of 244 miles in 1949 ... and the Viking, a re-entry vehicle to guide ideas. It led directly to the Vanguard Project.

Architectural Study

Orval E. Faubus gave the Commission of Co-ordination of Higher Education Finance $2,000 from his emergency fund Tuesday to finance an architectural study of college building needs. Faubus also allocated $3,500 to pay Arkansas' share of the expenses of the Southern Interstate Nuclear Compact Board.

The injured were taken to Mercy Hospital for treatment.

One of the helicopter pilots brought an urgent call from the Celerina for medical supplies.

The Celerina also said it was in great need of 100 pounds of meat, 50 pounds of rice and 50 pounds of flour to feed its unexpected guests. Arrangements were quickly made to send these supplies to the ship.

One of the survivors said on landing that contact with gasoline which spilled from the ditched plane had burned many who plunged into the sea, though there was no fire.

This account, by Pvt. William F. McGlothlen of Cottage Hill, Fla., indicated the probable basis for an erroneous British report that there was a fire aboard the Celerina in which two persons were injured.

"We are most of us badly burned," McGlothlen said. "There was no fire on the plane or on the Celerina, but while we were in the water after the ditching, the fuel was all around us. The high octane gasoline burned our bodies and the pain was bad. It even dissolved most of our clothes."

St. L. C. Alfred Bodding of Indianapolis, Ind., had a head injury, but was able to walk.

"We waited for the crash," he said, "and when the plane hit the water my seat was hurled forward. My head struck something and I knew nothing else until I came to in the life raft where the Celerina finally spotted us."

In London a U.S. Air Force spokesman said the injured would be flown as soon as possible to England and placed in a U.S. Air Force Hospital.

The Air Force sent a C-47 to Cork with Col. John T. Heavey, command surgeon of the London-based 3rd Air Force, in charge.

Helicopters Rescuing Survivors

By COLIN FROST

CORK, Ireland (AP)—Two British helicopters plucked 17 injured survivors of ditched American Airlines off the Swiss Rescue ship Celerina today for hospitalization at a U.S. Air Force base in Britain.

The 9,041-ton freighter, still carrying 27 others it rescued after a Flying Tiger Super Constellation plunged into the white-capped Atlantic with 7 persons Sunday night, headed on to Antwerp, Belgium, its next port of call.

The U.S. Army in Europe prepared to send medical and other aid to Antwerp for the group, American service men and their wives, whose flight from the United States ended with a forced landing in the sea 503 miles west of Ireland.

The Canadian aircraft carrier Bonaventure, which is bearing four other survivors, radioed that it expects to reach the Shannon River estuary about 9 a.m. Thursday. The carrier originally planned to arrive late today, but said it was running low on fuel and had to reduce speed.

Of the 7 aboard the plane, 28 were dead or missing and presumed drowned. Twelve bodies have been recovered. The search for further survivors was called off Tuesday night.

Many of those who lived through the ditching were suffering from chemical burns, a skin inflammation caused by contact with gasoline which spilled into the sea when the plane was wrenched apart. There was no fire.

Negro Rioters in St. Louis Burn Homes

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)— Fire destroyed three homes Tuesday night as scores of officers continued to patrol troubled suburban Kinloch, scene of a demonstration by a mob incensed over the police killing of a Negro youth.

Kinloch Mayor Clarence Lee called the fires the work of arsonists. There were no injuries.

Police early today arrested two of three men seen fleeing from a house fire.

Officers said Joseph Houston, 23, admitted setting four fires. He was booked on suspicion of arson. Police said Daniel Carter, 16, admitted setting one fire. He was turned over to juvenile authorities.

A shotgun blast wounded three white officers and a Negro bystander Tuesday morning as the officers moved to break up a crowd of about 200 Negroes. None of the wounded was hurt critically.

Negroes had gathered near the police station, shouting, "We want Mason." Chief of Police Roosevelt Hoskins said "there was a lot of yelling and scuffling. They began calling names at the policemen."

The violence in the all-Negro community stemmed from the shooting of Darnell Dortch, 20, by police officer Israel Mason, 74, Sunday. Mason, a Negro, resigned Tuesday. He said Dortch refused to accept a careless driving warrant and was shot as they fought for possession of Mason's pistol.

Mayer Lee said no racial angles were involved in the demonstrations.

Back to Jail, Furlough Ends

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Walter H. Pettigrew, 52 of Horatio was back in the Garland County jail Tuesday, his three-day Christmas furlough officially over.

Pettigrew, jailed last Nov. 1 to serve out a $100 fine for petty larceny, was released Dec. 24. He failed to return on schedule Dec. 26.

Saturday he was arrested in Texarkana for drunkenness. Texarkana police, processing him Tuesday, recalled that he was wanted in Hot Springs and notified Garland County sheriff's office.

Two deputies brought Pettigrew back. A hearing on the furlough violation will be scheduled, authorities said.

State Film Preview

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus and about 25 other persons saw a preview Tuesday of the film "Wonders of Arkansas," being prepared by Columbia Pictures. The film had no narration, but that will be added in Hollywood next week by Arkansas-born actor Dick Powell.

Parks and Publicity Director Bob Evans said the film would have its premiere showing in six or eight Arkansas cities in mid-October.

Kiwanians Elect

Touring Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — McGeorge Bundy, President Kennedy's special assistant for national security, arrived today for a visit and immediately set off on a tour of West Berlin and the Red wall.

interfering with Meredith's registration.

Barnett met Meredith at the door of the State College Board office. He refused to accept copies of the court's directives and then read a proclamation asserting the state's sovereignty in the case.

Last Thursday Barnett personally took over powers as Ole Miss registrar and refused to let Meredith enroll at the university.

He stopped briefly at the Jackson airport to talk on the telephone with U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

One of Meredith's lawyers said "the gist of the conversation was that he (Kennedy) assured Meredith that they would pursue the case until we get some satisfaction."

DOROTHY DIX

Bachelor's Theories Boomerang

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: As a daily reader of your column I've come to the conclusion that husbands don't know how to treat their wives. Being a bachelor, I can speak only from observation but I grew up with a mother and father who knew how to get the most out of married life.

Having seen their happiness through the years (they recently celebrated their sapphire wedding anniversary), I've come to the conclusion that almost any marriage can be a success if the husband not only takes charge but sets an example by being patient, kind, understanding and considerate — as was my father.

Here are six rules based on his relationship to Mama:

1. Treat your wife as a partner, not a slave.
2. Take her into your confidence.
3. Work out a household budget and personal allowance for her based on your income. (Dad did this the first months of his marriage.)
4. Show her that she is in your thoughts by bringing home some little gift two or three times a week. Dad never comes back without something for Mama; a bottle of perfume, box of candy, flowers, or maybe just a magazine or newspaper.
5. Constantly assure her of your love.
6. Share the same bed.

By now you're probably wondering why I never married. Well believe it or not, the girls act downright suspicious of me. Last spring I met a fine woman who, like me, was in her early forties. She just about filled the bill so I started in courting: candy, perfume, flowers every week. Saturday nights I'd take her to the best restaurant in town for dinner and dancing. She accepted my engagement ring.

"This is it," I told my parents. They rejoiced for me. I couldn't do enough for my fiancée. But, the nicer I was, the leerier she grew.

Last week she handed back my ring with the cryptic explanation: "You're too good to be true." Tell me, do women honestly want men to treat 'em rough — my parents to the contrary? Am I and they old-fashioned? — Bewildered

Dear Bewildered: Certain general principles of honorable dealing between human beings hold down through the ages, but a good salesman doesn't try to sell all his customers with the same line of talk.

The rules your father followed are applicable and should be used much as one would a cooking recipe. Even the best of recipes can't be dogmatically adhered to. And so it is with a successful marriage, or making a woman happy. You've got to be resourceful. Play it by ear. Vary the relation according to the situation. By literally following the rules you take all the excitement out of life which is probably what your girl meant when she said, "You're too good to be true." A goody-goody can be dull.

Owen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Joseph Owen of Hope. The wedding will be an event of Nov. 22 in St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Hope.

Recently given birth to their son by a Caesarian operation, I thought he might at least have held her arm in ascending the steps at the White House.

Judging from TV and news pictures he hasn't mended his ways. Am I wrong in my thinking or is he supposed to be superior to her?

Do good manners decree that he always precede her? I realize that in monarchical countries the ruler (man or woman) precedes the wife or husband, but I thought that in America all people were equal — Southern Lady, Faucett, Mo.

Dear Lady: On official occasions, the President of the United States takes precedence over his wife. When it's the man, not the office, he allows her to take the lead.

Manners are in a sense a language. They show consideration for others. A man walking with a woman is supposed to be in a position to protect her. Therefore he walks between her and the curb, or precedes her if the steps are steep or the way dangerous. This is a survival of an old custom for, nowadays, there's not much to protect a lady from. However, the custom persists. I like it.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflet available. Write for "Manners, and Young People."

Reds Accused of Creating Tension

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western powers accused the Soviet Union today of showing a "desire to maintain tension in Berlin" and to "distract attention from the brutal activities of the East German regime."

Notes replying to a Soviet communication of Sept. 5 were delivered in Moscow today. The State Department said those from Britain and France were identical to that of the United States.

Bearing particularly on the points of the Soviet rejection of four-power talks on Berlin and Kremlin accusations of Western provocations in the German city, the U.S. note said it is "manifestly unreasonable" for the Soviet government to accuse the United States of fomenting trouble in Berlin and to turn down Western appeals for a four-power conference.

"The Soviet note ignores the fact that the tensions in Berlin are due to the wall which divides the city and to the brutality of the East German regime toward its inhabitants," the note said.

One Group Is Against Act No. 1

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Commission on Coordination of Higher Education has adopted a resolution opposing proposed initiated act No. 1 which would set aside 50 per cent of the state's general revenues for public schools.

The resolution was adopted Saturday at the commission meeting at Arkansas State College in Jonesboro, but was not made public until today.

Commission Chairman W. E. Darby said the group opposed the Arkansas Education Association-backed bill, Initiated Act 1, for a number of reasons, including the fact that the institutions of higher learning would be thrown into more aggressive competition with other state agencies for what was left of the general revenues.

The commission's announcement came on the heels of a statement by Forrest Rozzell, executive secretary of the AEA, that the $128.3 million biennial budget adopted by the state Board of Education was the "best possible argument" for the act.

Rozzell said the amount guaranteed by the act would be $4 million to $5 a year less than the board of education asked for. He said this was proof the act was not unrealistic or excessive.

Darby said the commission's resolution based its opposition on four major points:

(1) Enrollment in the institutions of higher learning in the state increased by 89 per cent in the past

10 years while public school enrollment increased by only one-tenth of one per cent. Average daily attendance in the public schools increased by only 5.6 per cent.

(2) Funds for vocational schools, the state Library Commission and vocational rehabilitation service would no longer come from public school funds, but would be added to the agencies that would "have to haggle over the 44 per cent of the general revenues."

(3) Only 44 per cent of general revenues would be available to the other state agencies, including institutions of higher learning. Fifty per cent would go to the schools and six per cent for financial requirements of the executive, legislative and judicial branches of the government, and for tax-collecting and administering agencies.

Poll Tax Reminder

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus mailed out letters Monday reminding voters they must pay the 1963 poll tax by Oct. 1 to be eligible to vote in the Nov. 6 general election. The letters on Faubus' campaign stationery and asking for support said that some persons told the governor during his Democratic primary campaign that they wanted to vote for him but had no poll tax receipts. Faubus is opposed by Republican Willis Rickets in the general election.

Bids on Dikes

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Army Engineers will open bids Oct. 25 on construction of 700 feet of dikes on the Arkansas River seven miles west of Morrilton. Cost of the south bank stabilization project is estimated at $300,000.

Muscovites Getting Ready for Winter

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN

MOSCOW (AP) - The central heating came on in Moscow this week and Muscovites began redeeming their winter coats at the state hookshops.

The masses of pedestrians were back in their drab topcoats and raincoats soaking up the last weak rays of autumn sunlight that occasionally broke through between chilling rain storms.

Daytime temperatures are nippy and nights are cold. The first snowfall is just a few weeks away. From then on, the ground will be covered almost daily with a new blanket of snow.

State employees and workers, fresh from month-long vacations, began gathering enough cash to get their winter clothes out of hook. This is a common practice in the Soviet Union, the only Communist country to preserve that old capitalist institution, the pawn broker. They are called "Lombardi" after users of medieval Italy.

Russians who need cash for vacations and lack room in their cramped living quarters to store winter things usually show up at one of Moscow's five hookshops in early summer.

For a nominal interest charge, clothes are stored for the winter. The only worry is getting up the cash to buy them back before winter sets in.

Some folks are shopping for a hat—a must for Russian winters. The style has moved away from the traditional peasant's shapka with the earflaps to a jaunty high-crowned number copied from the Swedes.

Old-fashioned valenki (felt boots) also are disappearing. The women are wearing leather ankle-high shoes with felt inner linings. The most stylish ones, at 35 rubles—about $39—are imported, mainly from Czechoslovakia.

The males are turning to ordinary rubbers over their shoes or to rubber storm boots and galoshes, derisively called "farewell-to-youths" by the younger set.

Housewives in the cities soon will be washing their windows for the last time before stuffing up the cracks with cotton or pasting paper strips over loose-fitting frames. This annual ritual is dictated by the Russian dread of winter drafts. Shops will hang up flimsy curtains over doorways.

Berlin Will Become a U.S. Crisis

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Just because Premier Khrushchev is a frustrated man, Berlin may become an American crisis before year's end.

That city is high in the consciousness of the Kennedy administration, particularly Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who recently warned that the next few months may be dangerous ones.

"I would say that the crisis today in terms of military requirements and potential military operations is more severe than at any time since the actual combat operations of the Korean War," McNamara said.

Khrushchev's frustration comes from four years of demanding a peace settlement with Communist East Germany—Berlin lies 110 miles inside it—and four years of being stiff-armed by the West.

Twice in that time Khrushchev set a six-months' deadline for a settlement and twice abandoned it. But he has never abandoned his basic demand.

And, because he hasn't, there's a limit to how long he can go through this performance without looking like a straw man instead of the strong man he talks of being.

Earlier this month the Russians hinted they would accept still a further postponement—until after the American elections in November.

The reason, they suggested, was that the United States would be too occupied with its domestic problem until then to negotiate.

The kind of settlement Khrushchev had in mind would require:

1. Acknowledgment by the Western Allies of the legitimacy of the East German Communist regime, a Russian puppet.

2. Agreement that henceforth the access routes—land and air—by which the West send men and supplies into Berlin.

That's the part of the Khrushchev iceberg showing above the surface.

Equally deadly underwater was this:

1. For the West to acknowledge that the East German Communists were the legitimate rulers of East Germany would mean, for the West, abandoning the idea of West and East Germany might some day be unified.

The idea that they could be united is strictly a Western political myth anyway. It may please this country's West German allies to think the now divided Germany may be pulled together again. But it's only realistic to understand that, since the Communists hold East Germany, they are never going to surrender it or take a chance on losing it.

2. Khrushchev and the East Germans want the Allies out of Berlin and by turning full control of the access routes over to the East Germans, one more step would be taken along the road to shutting off Berlin from the West.

This could be done—to avoid war—over a period of time. Or, at least, the attempt would be made.

The West doesn't want to give up the myth of a united Germany and it reacts against any move—such as letting the East Germans control the Berlin access routes—which might weaken its position in Berlin.

There the two sides stand with a settlement no nearer now than it was four years ago or at any other time since World War II.

Khrushchev has to consider his Communists. They want recognition. He has promised it to them. He hasn't delivered. The more time passes, the more the pressure on him to deliver.

So—he says if the West won't make a settlement with East Germany, he will sign a peace treaty with it, turning over control of the access routes to East Germany.

But here again there is some frustration for him. If he turned over the access routes and the East Germans tried to shut out the West from Berlin, it might mean war.

But neither Khrushchev nor the rest of the Russians can want war over the German city. They've had

Slavs Tighten Belts Despite Showy Front

By EUGENE LEVIN
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)

Just off Marx ad Engels Square the shops are selling Elvis Presley records, the cafes are dishing out whipped-cream cakes and the customers gaily invent political jokes.

There may be an occasional mention of austerity, but on the surface it's hard to find.

Through the eyes of visitors from other Communist countries, it does not seem to exist. To them Belgrade is a shopping and dining mecca.

However, the belt tightening is there.

It started last spring when the Yugoslav economy started to lose momentum, and the country's foreign debt approached the $1-billion mark. President Tito's government ordered cuts in imports and moved to reduce industrial costs.

Plant executives felt the austerity. Trips they had planned abroad were canceled. Expense accounts were reduced. Factories had to find raw materials in Yugoslavia or soft currency areas, instead of importing from the hard-currency West.

Some imported cosmetics disappeared from the shops. The import of foreign autos was halted.

On the whole, however, austerity has meant nothing to the great mass of Yugoslavs. Shops are still filled with clothing, toys, leather goods, furniture and countless consumer items. Markets still provide plenty of meat and vegetables—the most varied and plentiful diet in Eastern Europe.

Many Yugoslavs can afford only to window-shop. Monthly industrial wages are around $50. But the glittering shop windows on Belgrade's tree-lined boulevards promise a better life.

Food, despite a 6 per cent cost of living increase between December and April, remains relatively cheap. Restaurants and sidewalk cafes are crowded. On Saturday nights the better ones, with gypsy violinists or jazz combos, lack room for all the fun-loving Serbians. The twist is catching on.

Visitors from the booming West may not be impressed, but visitors from the East are. Yugoslav Communists—who split with the Kremlin in 1948—often watching Russian, Bulgarian and Romanian tourists.

Congress Not Frank About Traveling

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress, which criticizes executive agencies for withholding information from the public, often is much less than frank about its own activities.

This is particularly true of official travel, or junketing or other expenses of the members.

The practice is more prevalent in the Senate than in the House. It is almost impossible to find out how much money a senator spends. Unlike the Senate, the House makes available at all times the staff payrolls of its members, including the names of individuals and their salaries.

The House also publishes annually a statement of foreign travel, spending by its members and committees, but the document lacks details and is long outdated when made available.

Executive agencies sometimes invoke "executive privilege" in withholding information, a practice criticized by a special House committee on government information. President Kennedy has taken the position that this privilege may be invoked by agencies only if he authorizes it.

Although Congress has erected few, if any, direct roadblocks in the path of the public's right to know what's going on the problem is one of getting access to congressional documents. They are a matter of record somewhere.

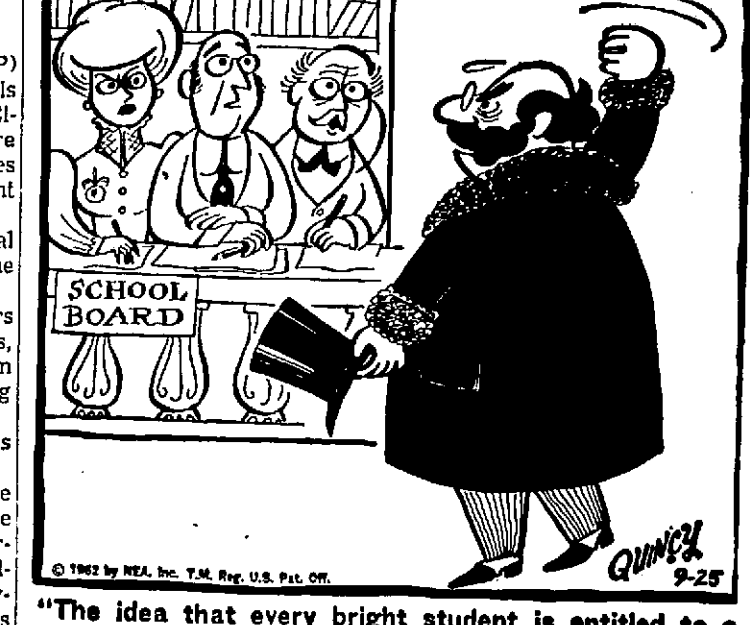

Frustrations, difficulties and delays often plague newsmen trying to find out what's going on in the way of congressional junketing or the expenditure of public funds.

The information may no longer be news when finally obtained.

For example, the law requires an annual accounting by all congressional committees and legislators on expenses incurred while traveling on official business, either inside or outside the United States.

But the accounting does not have to be made and published until after the first 60 days of each calendar year. But that time the information can be a year old. Even then it seldom is complete. Spending is listed under general headings—travel, lodging, meals and miscellaneous. Supporting vouchers explaining the details are not available.

"I've been thinking about us. I've been worried about our arguments. Here, sit down," Stephen Pendergrass said.

"I don't care to sit, thank you."

"Suit yourself," the big man said as he sat down, "but I wish you'd make yourself comfortable. I've got something to show you. An important document."

He pulled from his desk a letter, which he unfolded carefully. It looked as if it had been carried in someone's pocket a long time. The paper was brittle and the ink had turned brown.

The judge then took the paper, dated Aug. 15, 1872. It read as follows:

This will introduce William Ivey who has served in my campaigns in West Texas and New Mexico during the years from 1896 to the present date. He has served in the capacity of Scout and Chief of Scouts during expeditions against the Comanche, Apache, and Kiowa tribes of hostile Indians. During this service, he has demonstrated great competence, daring, and loyalty.

I highly recommend him for any position requiring courage and dependability, whether on the frontier or elsewhere.

—Col. R. S. Blaine

The judge started to hand the letter back, but the banker said, "Be sure you have that name, the colonel's name. Let me tell you what I want you to do, Albert. Get in touch with the War Department as fast as you can and verify this letter."

"I accept it. I have no doubt that it is authentic."

"I've come into this country for some of the same reasons," he said, "he wanted freedom to be as big a man as he was able to be, without a bunch of restrictions. But I've didn't just fight the Indians, Albert. He went and lived among them and learned their ways of thinking, and then he helped the cavalry drive them back and pen them up like they are today."

"It's true enough."

"True enough? Is that all you've got to say?"

"When I say 'true enough' I mean that I see enough truth in what you say about Ivey to believe that his final degradation is sad. But you may as well know that I do not accept your comparison between Ivey and our parents. I have thought about pioneer spirit as much as you have, and I will not accept Ivey as a symbol of it."

Sheren was beginning to show the anger the judge had expected. "Who are you," the big man said, "to lecture me on pioneer spirit? You are talking to the first white child born in Texas."

Why agree to some egotist's flimsy claim? He rose to leave.

The big man jumped to his feet to. "You know this appeal failure means the fight will go all the way, but you're ready to just walk out like it didn't matter. You don't even want to talk it over and find some way of settling it."

But the accounting does not have to be made and published until after the first 60 days of each calendar year. But that time the information can be a year old. Even then it seldom is complete. Spending is listed under general headings—travel, lodging, meals and miscellaneous. Supporting vouchers explaining the details are not available.

Suggests Move to Efficiency

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Attorney William J. Smith described proposed Constitutional Amendment 14 Monday as a move toward efficiency rather than implied mistrust of election officials.

Smith Gov. Orval E. Faubus' legal advisor heads a committee pushing for approval of the amendment in the Nov. 6 election.

The amendment would permit use of voting machines in counties or areas where they are wanted by voters.

Smith addressed a Little Rock civic club.

Hope-Camden Tied for 2nd in District

Only two Division 4AA Conference games were played last week, but however important the results, Hope, a pre-season pick for title honors, earned a 2-0 win over Smackover and Magnolia in a 7-0 loss to Camden.

Malvern still leads the league with a 2-0 record while Hope and Camden are tied for second with 1-0 league records. Fairview and Magnolia are still in the running with 1-1 records.

Games this week: Conference—Malvern at Hope; Magnolia at Smackover.

Non-conference: Camden at Arkadelphia; Haynesville, La. at Fairview.

The first real showdown battle of the season looms this week when Hope and Malvern tangle. A win by Malvern would give them a commanding early lead. A win by Hope would help the Bobcats eliminate one contender.

Other results last week: Camden 27, Fordyce 0; Catholic High 13, Malvern 6; Helena 27, Fairview 6.

Despite two low scoring losses, the Crossett Eagles still lead the Team Rushing statistics with 827 yards. Hope is second with 766 yards and Malvern is third with 665.

In Rushing Defense Camden has taken over limiting their opponents to 355 yards. Fairview follows giving up 398 yards and Hope has allowed 390 yards.

Smackover leads the team in Net Yards: Passing with 235 yards followed by Camden with 161 yards.

Pass Defense is led by Magnolia, allowing opponents 42 yards by air, followed by Camden allowing 53 yards and Smackover 62 yards.

A. Ethridge, Crossett, leads the district punting with 24 points, followed by T. Smith, Crossett, and R. McDowell, Hope with 18 points each.

The Standings

Liston Punches Patterson to Sleep in First

By JERRY LISKA

Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—A new Charles (Sonny) Liston today promised to be a world heavyweight champion in shining armor and also to give Floyd Patterson a rematch as soon as possible.

A cruel-punching strong man, Liston, 28, slammed the door of sudden fame on a shady past Tuesday night by exploding the long-suspected Patterson myth in 12 seconds of their hullabalooed title match in Comiskey Park.

In the third fastest finish in heavyweight boxing history, 2:0 of the first round, Liston crumpled Patterson to the canvas with a couple of ponderous left hooks.

Before a disappointing paid crowd of 18,894 and a whopping closed circuit television audience, had time to dig into their popcorn, the fight had ended in stunning fashion.

Perhaps not so stunning, because it long was felt that the canny Cus D'Amato, Patterson's guiding angel, had wrapped his boy in cotton. Floyd's championship path mainly avoided what real punchers were around since Patterson, then 21, first won the crown in 1956 by flattening an overstuffed Archie Moore.

Ingemar Johansson, whose "Thunder right" unexpectedly dethroned Patterson in 1959, best described D'Amato's boy against the hulking Liston, who out-weighted the champion, 214 to 189. "Patterson looks like a little baby tonight," said Ingo, who may get a shot at Liston after the new champ has his return match with Patterson.

Patterson, whose catastrophic finish had been foreshadowed in 12 knockdowns in previous title bouts, wants another go at Liston within three months.

That could be a big mistake, except that, financially, Patterson could swell his lion's take as a loser by sharing a 30-30 split of the return match receipts.

Liston is ready at any time. Liston had rushed over to Patterson after referee Frank Sikora threw his arms around the wobbly ex-champion following his knockout count.

"He told me if the public gives me a chance, I can be a worthy champion, maybe a better champion than he was."

"I think I can prove just that — if the public gives me a chance," added the poker-faced Liston.

The Comiskey Park gross receipts were announced as $65,420 and the net $556,119.95.

The big swag comes Thursday when the closed circuit television reports are filed. Patterson's take on the basis of the live gate and a guaranteed $2 million from television was an estimated $1,185,253 and Liston—pegged at a 12 1/2 take of all net receipts — should get a minimum of $282,015.

Porkers Set for Tulsa's Air Circus

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Coach Frank Broyles planned to work the Arkansas Razorbacks on pass defense again today in preparation for Saturday's invasion by Tulsa's aerial circus.

The Porkers spent an hour and 40 minutes Tuesday working against the air game. Broyles said Tulsa threw 35 passes in a 99-0 opening victory against Hardin-Simmons Sept. 15.

Tulsa took last week off to get ready for the Razorbacks. The Golden Hurricane last beat the Hogs in 1959, Broyles' first year at the helm.

Broyles said Tulsa's main fling is 200-pound quarterback Stu McBirnie. A complete scouting report on Tulsa will be delivered to players today.

Broyles appeared somewhat more satisfied with his charges after Tuesday's workout. He said practice was "beginning to look a little more like last year."

The coach has used the crying towel flagrantly this fall. He even took a dim view of last Saturday's 34-7 victory over Oklahoma State, saying blocking, tackling and play execution were not up to par.

Broyles didn't say, but Arkansas probably will do its share of throwing in Razorback Stadium Saturday. Four of Arkansas' five touchdowns against OSU came on passes with sophomore Billy Gray unleashing three of the payoff piches.

The Porker camp got more bad news regarding end Jim John Tuesday. John was moved to a Little Rock hospital and it was not known when he may be able to play. He was sidelined early in fall drills with a nose injury.

John was praised by Broyles as possible all-conference material at strongside end on the Big Red unit. He will play as soon as he is able, since this is his last season of eligibility and he cannot be held out for next year because he was red shirted during the 1960 season.

Bobcats Are Picked Over Malvern

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Staff Writer

Little Rock Central resumes football wars this week after a one week layoff and the Bengals should be grooming for their first real Big Nine Conference test.

That won't come until Oct. 5, though, when Central goes to Fort Smith to play the once-burned Grizzlies.

Meanwhile, there's Hot Springs this week. It'll be in the resort city, but the Tigers won't be there for fun in the sun.

Hot Springs started capably enough against foes of lower classification, but Central is a big wheel in the big league, and a big wheel can roll, man.

We hit .71 on the picks last week, and we're irisky. Make it Little Rock Central 25, Hot Springs 7.

In other Big Nine Conference games:

PINE BLUFF 20, Blytheville 13. The Chickasaws have been better than most people thought they would be, but they won't be better than Pine Bluff, conqueror of Fort Smith.

EL DORADO 14, North Little Rock 0. It's Wildcats against Wildcats, but the second set hasn't played good football yet.

FORT SMITH 24, Subiaco 0. The Grizzlies should be enraged over last week's setback by the Zebras, and Subiaco hasn't beaten anybody yet.

LITTLE ROCK HALL 21, Texarkana 0. If hall coach Ray Peters were a vicious man, it could be worse.

Now, for a trip through Class AA.

Rogers 28, Fayetteville 7. These two Northwest Arkansas teams have been impressive on occasion this fall, but Rogers seems to have more of an offense.

Harrison 21, Russellville 20. A hard one to pick as we see it.

Van Buren 14, Springdale 0. Springdale's Bulldogs have managed only one victory in four tries.

Helena 18, Forrest City 7. The Indians are unbeaten in Region 2AA play, and this game counts toward the title that Jonesboro holds.

Jonesboro 24, Newport 1. Jonesboro hasn't had trouble yet, and the Greyhounds don't have the manpower to hold off the Golden Hurricane.

West Memphis 20, Paragould 0. The Blue Devils are 3-1-0 in Region 2AA play, Paragould is 1-2-0.

Stuttgart 7, DeWitt 0. Simply because the Ricobars are in Region 3AA and DeWitt is a Class A club.

Wynne, Marianna 0. Again, Class AA over Class A.

Little Rock Catholic 14, Benton 13. Despite the extra point kicking that allowed Benton to edge Hot Springs last week. Let's go with an aggressive Catholic line.

Conway 21, Jacksonville 0. The Wampus Cats haven't had much trouble beating anybody.

Nashville 14, Mabelvale 0. This time it's Class A over Class AA because the Scrappers did it last year with single-wing power.

Morrilton 19, Searcy 0. The Devil Dogs looked good in tying Russellville and Searcy hasn't yet.

Lonoke 14, Sylvan Hills 7. The Bears, new to Region 3AA, have been down a long, rocky road so far, and chasing cottontail rabbits constitutes wind sprints at Lonoke. You can't beat that kind of running very often.

Camden 20, Arkadelphia 0. A Region 4AA power that plays like it against a Class A team.

Camden Fairview 12, Haynesville, La. 0. Favoritism for something grown in Arkansas.

Hope 24, Malvern 7. The Bobcats lead Region 4AA, and Malvern doesn't have the guns to change that.

Smackover 20, Magnolia 7. Magnolia surprised Crossett last week, but Smackover will be ready.

Actor Convicted
LONDON (AP)—Actor Trevor Howard, 48, was convicted today of drunken driving and disqualified from driving for eight years.

Yanks Finally Clinch America League Flag

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

They finally did it. The New York Yankees finally clinched the big 1962 American League pennant.

As a rousing anticlimax to a lackluster campaign, the Yankees got the one they needed Tuesday night by beating Washington's last place Senators 8-3.

Two of the Yankees' long-time stars, left-hander Whitey Ford and slogger Mickey Mantle, led the Bombers to the deciding victory. Ford was the winning pitcher, Mantle paced the 1-hit attack with four singles.

Moments after the final out, and with the flag safely in Yankee possession, the Cleveland Indians polished off New York's closest pursuers, the Minnesota Twins, 5-1. That left the Yanks 5 1/2 games in front with four to play.

For the Yankees, perhaps the most highly favored pennant choice since they started playing Abner Doubleday's pastime for keeps, it is their 27th league title, their 12th in the last 14 years and their third straight.

But it was a long time coming. Slowed down by injuries to Mantle, Ford and last year's relief standout, Luis Arroyo, and hampered by subpar play on the part of several other key men, the Yankees never were really able to take charge. Dawdling along on their own, and forced to withstand the surprise challenges of the Twins and the Los Angeles Angels, what was expected to be a season-long romp became a season-long struggle.

Detroit nipped Los Angeles 3-2 when Al Kaline tripled in two earned runs after two were out in the last of the ninth inning and Boston blanked Chicago 4-0 on Bill Monbouquette's five-hit pitching. Kansas City at Baltimore was postponed because of threatening weather.

In the National League, Houston topped Los Angeles 3-2 in 10 innings and San Francisco beat St. Louis 4-2, cutting the Dodgers' lead over the Giants to two games; Cincinnati edged Pittsburgh 2-1; and Milwaukee led New York 7-3. Chicago and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

Pedro Ramos, an ex-Twin, beat Minnesota on seven hits and bested his fellow Cuban and former teammate, Camilo Pascual, who was after his 20th victory. Harmon Killebrew shot the Twins into a brief lead when he hit his 46th homer in the top of the second but the Indians took command in their hal of the inning on Woodie Held's two-run homer.

Buried in Cave-in

WEST CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—Thomas Snyder, 21, of Hellertown, Pa., was buried up to his waist in a cave-in while working on a sewer project near here last June. He suffered only minor injuries.

Monday Snyder was killed when a large mound of dirt caved in on him while he was standing in a 12-foot trench at another part of the same project.

Leaving Daos

WASHINGTON (AP)—The last of 800 American military advisers will be withdrawn from Laos Oct. 6 whether all the Communist North Vietnamese are out or not, U.S. sources say.

That's the deadline for the withdrawal of all foreign troops under the Geneva agreement.

Going to Vatican

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Most Rev. Albert L. Fletcher Catholic bishop of Arkansas was to leave Little Rock today on his way to Vatican City and the Ecumenical Council starting next month. Fletcher a delegate will be accompanied by Msgr. Lawrence Graves.

Australians Fail to Win Sailing Cup

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Matilda will not wait tonight.

The old America's Cup stays in its New York Yacht Club showcase until Britain takes the next crack at it, probably in a year or two.

An English challenge is expected, and yacht club officials said it would be accepted if it is received in the next 30 days.

The gallant Australian bid for the 111 year old America's Cup ended in the gathering gloom off Newport Tuesday, when the American defender Weatherly ground the Aussie sloop Gretel into the sea by a half-mile margin.

The victory gave the Americans the cup series, four races to one. It was the 18th unsuccessful challenge for the ornate old $500 silver mug.

The gallant Australian bid was doomed to join the ill-fated pre-war challenges of Sir Thomas Lip-
